SIMUNITION® NOTICE - WARQ PRO® Helmets

Many companies worldwide see the success that we are having at Simunion® and are attempting to capitalize on that success. This can be dangerous for our customers because some other companies do not always have the same rigorous safety tests that General Dynamics Ordnance and Tactical Systems and the Simunion® team ensures all of our products pass.

It has been brought to our attention that WARQ PRO® Helmets are manufacturing a helmet for use during force-on-force training. In 2020, Simunion® acquired and tested the WARQ PRO® helmet system, and it failed our strict safety tests. Therefore, we do not recommend the use of this helmet system during force-on-force training with our FX® marking cartridges. Only the Simunion® FX® 9004 Helmet Head Protector has been certified for use with both Simunion® and Force on Force® ammunition.

Please see enclosure 1 to view our test results for this product.
